JULY '19

ISSUE 29

From The Editor's desk -

We keep moving forward, opening new doors, and doing new things, because we're curious and curiosity keeps leading us down new paths.

Accepting changes is often difficult but we have to have trust in God's plans. He always has something good in store for us. Everybody rejoiced when Anjali Chaudhary ma'am was entrusted with the responsibilities of new Vice Principal. We all look forward to have a beautiful experience working with her. Students had a creatively fun time during the summer vacations. School reopened on 1st July and it was an exhilarating feeling to see smiling faces and hearty laughter all around.

Happy Session ahead everyone !!!

CRAFT ACTIVITY

"Creativity is contagious, pass it on." - Albert Einstein

Kids these days are growing with technology. There are very few real life experiences to enrich them. Experts say technology can never surpass the benefits of hands on experiences. Keeping in mind the intention of making our little ones do something creative and give wings to their creativity and imagination, a "Craft Activity" was designed for the students of classes Nursery to II of SPSS. The little masters were exhilarated when they got to dip their fingers in colour and smear it on paper to create art works. Since craft activity uses both the hands, it is a beautiful and interesting way to develop fine motor skills, concentration, confidence and most importantly decision taking capability. Under the guidance of teachers, students made yummy watermelons, honey-bee, rainy season delight corns. The budding craftsmen also created unique and exclusive animals, birds, flowers etc. to showcase an enchanting jungle scene and beautiful pen stands with the help of waste material.

The activities got a little messy, but no worries, arts and craft are brilliant for developing little minds and bodies. So, what's a few paint stains compared to burgeoning creativity!
