"A man is not old until regrets take the place of dreams." – John Barrymore

Life is beautiful. Today, let us slow down, take a deep breath, and take the time to deliberately see the beauty in everything around us. Pick out details that attract us and notice that when we put our full attention into any object, structure, landscape, or person, there is always beauty to be appreciated.

What might seem mundane or unsightly may actually resonate with our consciousness at some level and make us feel more alive. The key to happiness is in finding more of such moments or things that give us happiness.

The month of May is when the students start gearing up for the summer break after some rigorous studies day. So wishing them lots of happy moments during their Summer Camp, I sign off this month's chronicle.

Take very good care of yourself.

MOM 'N' ME - THE BOND OF ETERNITY (Mother's Day Celebration)

" She sprouted love like flowers, grew a garden in her mind, and even on the darkest days, From her smile the sun still shined." - Erin Hanson

The touch of a mother is a great healer, her smile brightens days, her love is intangible yet embedded in every soul.

We cannot just dedicate a single to a mother but in the vicissitudes of life, we forget to thank her for her selflessness, devotion, and care, which is why we celebrate Mothers' Day on the second Sunday of May.

This year too the lockdown could not dampen the spirit of the Singhnians and they celebrated the day with many jubiliations.

Entries were invited from the students expressing their love and gratitude towards their mothers which received an overwhelming stream of songs, poems, photographs, and creative art. The gratifying compositions were weaved into adorable videos dedicated to SPSS Mothers which will be tucked in the safe havens of heart to be cherished forever.

MY EXPERIENCE DURING THE LOCKDOWN

In March, when the lockdown was declared, I was not at all clear in the beginning what exactly it is. When I found that I cannot give my remaining exams, I cannot play in the garden, I cannot go out of the house, it was quite surprising for me as a child. It started with a single day "Janta Curfew" than a declaration of the long long homestay.

As a student I also like vacations, but I could not enjoy these vacations as no friends, no outdoor games, no movies, no traveling. Gradually I understood with the help of my parents that staying home is necessary for our health and society's benefit.

I changed my schedule. I started playing badminton with my father and went for walks with my mother.

A good thing that I liked most was the yummy dishes my mom made for me. They were heavenly. I never even once missed eating out.

From 1st April, my school SPSS started conducting online classes, so it brought me back to studies along with enjoyment at home.

The online class is altogether a new and great experience for me. My parents and teachers helped me to cope up with this new pattern of learning. I realized technology can be very useful. A lot depends on how we put it to use.

At last, I pray everything goes back to normal once again and I thank all the Doctors, health workers, policemen, and other people on duty who are keeping us safe during these difficult time.

ENSURING SAFETY OF THE STUDENTS POST COVID19

Change is the only constant, and we believe in constantly changing and upgrading ourselves to meet the requirements of the time. While others are talking about Covid19, our team at SPSS is bracing itself to ensure the security of our students, when the school reopens.

Various webinars were attended by the teachers that guided them how to ensure safety of the students when the session finally commences. What would be the new normal etiquettes in the post Covid19 times? Was discussed and what precautions need to be incorporated and maintained were proposed as well.

WEBINAR FOR COMMERCE STUDENTS BY MR. VIPUL PRAKASH

The ongoing health crisis around COVID-19 has affected all walks of life. We cannot yet pluck the future out of the crystal ball, and the future may yet hold surprises. But, when in worst-case scenarios out there, 100 million and more jobs will be at risk during and after the COVID-19 lockdown stage, this webinar by Mr. VIPUL PRAKASH was a ray of hope.

On May 9'2020, a webinar was hosted by JK Business School where Mr. Vipul Prakash, an entrepreneur, founder of Wow Jobs, a recruitment company, addressed the students on the topic- Current & Future Career Options and Skills needed in the Post-COVID Era. Mr. Prakash highlighted the current scenario explaining about the fast-changing trends the world is experiencing like Work from Home, E-connecting, Disrupted supply chains, unpopularity and discontinuity of Newspapers, lack of skilled workers, a huge surge of learning; webinars, Social Distancing and its effect on working in factories and distress among people.

The session concluded with the Question Answer round, where all the possible queries of the students were answered.

It was a very inspirational and informative session altogether. Webinars are the future of education. Webinars improve the engagement with people, thanks to webinars.
